

ISLE OF MAN. WHERE YOU CAN ENJOY EXCELLENT LINKS TO THE UK & BEYOND

Well Connected

The Isle of Man enjoys excellent transport links to major transport hubs in the UK and Ireland.

There are approximately 50 flights to London airports and 30 to Manchester every week, making the Isle of Man an ideal gateway from which to travel to Europe and the rest of the world.

Additionally, there are daily ferry crossings to Heysham and Liverpool, major ports in NW England.

Arriving by air

Isle of Man Airport is located near Castletown, about 20 minutes drive from the centre of Douglas.

Frequent flights are available to over 20 major UK and regional airports such as London (Gatwick, City and Luton), Manchester, Liverpool, Birmingham and Belfast. Dublin and the Channel Islands are also served

Arriving by Private Jet

A new Executive Terminal is currently being developed at Isle of Man Airport by The Private Jet Company, which is due for completion in August 2012. As well as a private terminal with executive lounges and crew rooms, the purpose-built facility will feature executive aircraft handling and hangarage.

Arriving by sea

The Isle of Man's principal port is Douglas. The Isle of Man Steam

Packet Company operates multi-purpose roll-on/roll-off vessels with the main sea routes being: Douglas to Liverpool; Douglas to Heysham; Douglas to Belfast; Douglas to Dublin.

The Steam Packet Company also operates twice daily 'fast craft' services to Liverpool from April to October.

Freight Services

Freight services between the Isle of Man and UK are offered by the Isle of Man Steam Packet and Mezeron Limited (part of the Peter Dohle Group). The Steam Packet carries freight on its passenger routes while Mezeron currently operates routes to Belfast and Glasson Dock.

Yacht Marinas

The Isle of Man has two excellent marinas: one in Douglas Harbour on the East Coast, and one at Peel on the West Coast. Both feature pontoon berths with full hook up facilities for power and water (currently included in the berth fee) and are enclosed by security gates.

Road Network

The Isle of Man has an extensive road network with over 600 miles of roads. Congestion is not a big problem and this means commuting times are a fraction of the time of comparable journeys in cities and large towns situated elsewhere in the British Isles.
